What aspects of this course impacted your learning experience the most?

Comments
The quizzes every week
The timing of classes
quizzes where descent, but instruction was fast paced.
The homeworks were helpful
I loved that he would print worksheets out which helped me focus more on the key points of the material that was being taught and it also gave me a lot of example problems to refer back to.
The pace of the course made it difficult to fully understand topics, but practice exams and reviews were helpful.
The homework packets were very helpful because they gave you exactly what you needed to know for quizzes and exams.
The teacher helping when asked.
The worksheets, it helped me remember the content better
I think lectures have been really good. Anirban does a really good job at stopping to answer questions. He always make sure everyone understands the topic before he moves on.

All of it worksheets
The course structure works extremely well for me, he plans everything in detail and lets everyone know.
I honestly knew most of the material going into the course, so it didn't really impact my learning experience, more so that it gave me dedicated and scheduled practice time.
Having worksheets to work on.
Homework
The lectures
The engagement the professor has with the class.
I think the frequency of the quizzes were good as they made the students actually have to keep up weekly with the information taught. Although it was annoying i found it to be beneficial in the end
The online homework, class discussions before quizzes, and the constant quizzes to make sure we understand what we're learning in class

Comments
Didn't like the way the instructor taught
I liked the printed notes.
Interactive
Calc knowledge
The relationship the teacher has with his students is great.
He's very willing to work with students that are having a hard time i enjoy math
The constant quizzes really showed if I truly knew the material or not.
provided worksheets were amazing
I learned more algebra than when I was in business calculus. It was also significantly easier to understand than calculus.
Learning precalc
Refreshed my memory with basic algebra and has prepared me for calculus

What about this instructor impacted your learning experience the most?

Gave the class breaks when we needed them
Very nice
i struggled with the speed of the class, if i could change anything recording the class would be it.
He asked if we had any questions all the time
He was very engaged in class and if we had any questions or concerns, he was eager to answer them. He would also ask the students questions which I believe helped a lot more students understand what they were doing wrong with a problem and how to correct it.
was very responsive to emails, and was patient and willing to help with work.
He was always extremely helpful explaining topics in class as well as if you had questions outside of class.
How easy it was to ask for help.
He explained it in a way that was easy to understand
I think lectures have been really good. Anirban does a really good job at stopping to answer questions. He always make sure everyone understands the topic before he moves on.

nice
Dr. Bhaduri is very intentional with what he teaches and how, I had always struggled learning trigonometry and similar concepts until I took this class. As, well Dr. Bhaduri was very kind when I faced an emergency with a roommate.
Sometimes he would make small mistakes but honestly thats not that crazy of a complaint because it also made students use critical thinking to recognize the mistake.
Going over topics people don't understand.
The study guides givens
group quizzes
Being able to easily communicate
He was very open to work with any student and in my experience when I was sick he was open to reschedule a makeup exam and quiz. Overall he was a very effective teacher and you can tell he actually cares about the success of his students.
Being able to makeup quizzes when I was sick/missed class, open class discussions.
Negative impact
He was always very helpful.
Thorough explanation
Gave note works
How he helps struggling students, and the opportunities he offers when you need help.
He's been very understanding of my predicaments and helps me when I need it he likes math
He was very engaging with the class.
The quizzes force me to study every week, but they also made me struggle more since there were only 2–3 questions on each.
He was very flexible with quizzes especially. He would ask the class if they wanted to do group quizzes or not. If majority of the class was nervous, then he'd make it a group quiz instead of individual. I've never seen any professor do that, even in calculus.
Good at teaching
He is a good guy who genuinely cares about his students and enjoys teaching. He always ensures we understand before moving on plus he makes mistakes and it reminds us and him that he is human :)
